THE RIGHT TO ALTER PLANS

IS CITY LIABLE FOR WORK WHEN SPECIFICATIONS ARE CHANGED?

the Board of Public Works, That It is Not-Members of the Board Undecided.

Alderman Morgan went before the board of public works yesterday morning to argue with the members in regard to the Moran claim for $22.75, for extra work done on Goose acck creek sewer. From the way the aider man had been breathing threats it was expected that there would be a stormy time when he appeared before the board, but there was nothing of the kind. On the contrary, the alderman was as mild as a May morning, perhaps because the new fargled kicking machine ordered for him by the board has not yet arrived, and he saving himself until it does. Besides Alderman Morgan, Contractor Boyd, who really did the work under the Moran con-tract, and his attorney were present at the really did the work under the Moran contract, and his attorney were present at the mesting of the board.

Pirst, an opinion by City Counselor Me-Dougal adverse to the payment of the claim was read, and then Alderman Morgan was heard, he said he fully believed that the claim was an illegal one, which could not be collected from the city by legal process, and he intended to light it to a finish in the council. He told the members of the board that, they could not get around the opinion of the city counselor without laying themselves liable for misdemeanor. He declayed that in the past city officials had been altogether too lax in the payment of such calms, and that it was high time it was stopped.

Mr. Baer reminded Alderman Morgan of the time when, as a member of the upper house, he voted to pay the claim of Henry Middleton for scavenger work, which the city could not have been forced to pay, but which was paid as a matter of justice to a man who had done the work required of him and was entitled to his money. Alderman Morgan admitted that he voted for the Middleton claim, but said that was when he was young in the council and didn't know the chairer "from kiver to kiver" like he does now.

The members of the board take the position that the colaim is not only one which the city should pay as a matter of justice but that the contractor can go into the courts and enforce the payment of the claim, the opinion of the city counselor and Alderman Morgan to the contrary not with-standing. Mr. Boyd assured the board that unless his claim was allowed he would institute suit in the circuit court for the amount.

After some discussion the whole question was laid over for one week when it will be stitute suit in the circuit court for the amount.

After some discussion the whole question was laid over for one week, when it will be finally acted upon.

Counselor McDongal's opinion, in part, follows:

"The questions are, first, under his contract with the city could he recover on his claim for such extra work? Under the terms of his contract he agreed to complete the work and receive pay according to schedule prices named, and then follows this significant language: 'In cash not to exceed in amount the sum of six thousand dollars, as the total amount to be paid by said city for all work done under this contract, and that his receip therefor shall be in full of all claims against the city on account of said work.

"In a case against this city, some years."

tract, and that his receipt therefor shall be in full of all claims against the city on account of said work.

"In a case against this city some years ago, where the contractor was required by the city engineer to dig a trench for sewer pipes about 600 feet in length deeper than it was originally made, it was held that the plans and specifications were as much a part of the contract as if they had been written into the contract.

"Another question which is involved is the Jower and duty of the city under the charter. Section 30 of article IV. of our present charter is a copy of section 29 of article IV. of the charter of 1875. This section are not contract of the contract of the city under the charter of the city  shall have authority to make any contract or do any act binding Kansas City, or imposing upon said city any liability to pay money until a definite amount of money shall first have been appropriated for the liquidation of all pecuniary liability of said city under said act; and the amount of said appropriation shall be the maximum limit of the liability of the city under any such contract or in consequence of any such act, and said contract or act shall be ab initio null and void as to the city for any other or further liability. "The ordinance under which the Moran contract was executed, as well as the contract itself, in express terms limited the amount to $6.00. Under the charter provision last quoted, is the city under any legal obligation to pay the extra compensation claimed, or could it do so without violating the charter? This question was answered in the negative in the case of Mister vs. Kansas City, 18 Mo. App. 217.

"While it may be true that the changes in the plans and specifications were absolutely precessary in order to make the sover. ys. Ransas City, 18 Mo. App., 21.

"While it may be true that the changes in the plans and specifications were absolutely necessary in order to make the sewer in question answer the purposes for which it was intended and that the claim is both fair and equitable, yet under the construction placed by our own courts of last resort on this same charter provision, and under a similar contract, my opinion still is that Mr. Moran is not entitled to nor could he recover the amount claimed."
